BANDITS GET $13,700 FROM N. D. BANK AND ESCAPE

Yeggmen Flee In Touring Car

Oberon Bank is Victim of Men Believed to be Experts—Posse Goes in Pursuit as Robbers Drive Swiftly to East—Bank Vaults Entered at 2:30 O'clock This Morning

STEAL CASH AND BONDS

Minnewauken, July 20.—Five men early this morning robbed the Bank of Oberon, Benson county, near here, of $13,700 in cash and Liberty bonds. The vault and safe of the bank were wrecked.

The robbers escaped in a large automobile, heading east. All wires into the town were cut, preventing a report of the robbery before noon.

The force of the explosion not only wrecked the safe and vault but blew the windows out of the bank and wrecked the furniture. The inside of the bank is a mass of wreckage.

The bold robbery occurred about 2:30 o'clock this morning. The robbers approached the town in a big touring car, which they left on the outskirts.

They inserted four charges of nitroglycerine in the vaults, after drilling holes. The whole town was awakened by the terrific force of the explosions. The robbers quickly gathered in all the cash there was—only $700 cash was on hand—and $13,000 in Liberty bonds owned by the bank, and many depositors.

People Awakened.
People awakened by the explosion began to appear on the streets and one man shot at the bandits. The bandits ran to their touring car outside of town and started eastward toward Grand Forks at a terrific pace.

A posse was quickly formed and went in pursuit. The sheriff at Minnewauken was called and he notified police four miles around. All started in pursuit with his deputies and an hastily organized posse. The men were armed with rifles.

Did Not Shoot.

The robbers did not fire a shot at any of the citizens who appeared on the streets, although all of them were armed. It was a clear night and one or two citizens say they got a good look at one or two bandits.

While it is believed the men were experts, yet they did their work either carelessly or with a deliberate bravado. They use a great quantity of explosives, so heavy that feeble attempts to smother them failed.

SHAMROCK GOES PAST RESOLUTE IN YACHT RACE

Sail Handling on British Boat is Bungled at Start but Recovery is Made

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 20.—Ten miles of the 30 miles triangular course completed the challenger Shamrock rounded the first mark ahead of the Resolute.

Shamrock turned the first mark at 2:28:28, saluted by the excursion fleet which blew great blasts and their whistles. Resolute was 600 yards astern, turning the mark 4 minutes later.

The Shamrock sailed over the starting point ahead of the Resolute. Although Resolute was second across the line the balloon on the Irish sloop would not break out and was hauled partly down.

The starting signal was blown at 12:15 p. m. Shamrock crossed at 12:15:48, official time, and Resolute at 12:16:26.

At 12:22 Resolute jumped into the lead, passing Shamrock to leeward, after the challenger's crew had cleared the fouled jib topsail.

Nearly catching the Shamrock five minutes after the start Resolute failed to pass to leeward at 12:22. The fouled jib sail was cleared by the crew of the Shamrock. It was evident to observers that sail handling on the challenger had been bungled.

At 12:30 Resolute's lead was 200 yards. Shamrock was steadily dropping behind because her headail failed to fill and it looked as if her skipper was in trouble again. At 12:33 Resolute was 300 yards ahead.

ILLINOIS HAS BIG CORN CROP

Springfield, Ill., July 20.—The corn crop in Illinois was estimated at approximately 284,125,000 bushels. This estimate was made today by the United States bureau of crop estimators and the state department of agriculture. It compares with last year's yield of 247,537,000 bushels, and the five year average of 247,537,000 bushels.

FIND TRACES OF BLACK RUST; NO DAMAGE AS YET

There are slight traces of black rust in the wheat in this section, but as yet there is little evidence of any damage, according to C. A. Baker, manager of the Russell-Miller company here.

"Wheat is not out of the critical stage, however," said Mr. Baker today. "It will not be until it is nearly ripe, and that may be in a couple of weeks."

"There has been very little rust weather until the last two or three days. Sunday night there was a rainstorm, followed by the glaring hot sun of yesterday, and last night there was a heavy dew, with the sun beating down today. This is the kind of weather that makes black rust."

"While the crop still is in the critical stage there is grounds for belief that black rust will not do great damage this year. In previous years when the rust did do great damage it set in much earlier."

Mr. Baker says that grasshoppers have not done great damage, and he anticipated a yield of wheat in the Slope country above the ten-year average. The acreage is less, but the yield per acre will be much greater, it is indicated.

Corn is exceptionally fine, he said, adding that nothing but an early frost can cheat this section out of a good corn crop.

LEAGUE MAN IS DISQUALIFIED, JUDGE DECIDES

Rev. Kvale Violated Corrupt Practices Act in Minnesota Election, It is Held

VOLSTEAD IS THE NOMINEE

Benson, Minn., July 20.—Rev. O. J. Kvale, of Benson, is disqualified as the Republican candidate for Congress in the seventh Minnesota district, in a decision filed here today by District Judge Alfred Johnson, who heard the suit contesting Kvale's nomination.

Constituent A. J. Volstead, who was defeated by Kvale in the June 21 primary, was declared in the decision to be "duly nominated candidate of the Republican party" for Congress in the seventh district. Kvale was endorsed by the Nonpartisan league.

Action contesting Rev. Kvale's nomination was brought by 25 voters who charged violation of the state corrupt practices act. Hearing of the suit was concluded last week. Judge Johnson's decision asserts that acts of Rev. Kvale "constitute a deliberate, serious and material violation of the laws of the state relating to nominations and elections and that there is no justification or excuse therefor."

Based for the suit included charges printed and circulated by Kvale and his supporters that Volstead was an atheist. Counsel for Rev. Kvale had indicated that an opinion adverse to their client would result in appeal.

The starting signal was blown at 12:15 p. m. Shamrock crossed at 12:15:48, official time, and Resolute at 12:16:26.

At 12:22 Resolute jumped into the lead, passing Shamrock to leeward, after the challenger's crew had cleared the fouled jib topsail.

Nearly catching the Shamrock five minutes after the start Resolute failed to pass to leeward at 12:22. The fouled jib sail was cleared by the crew of the Shamrock. It was evident to observers that sail handling on the challenger had been bungled.

The Bismarck soldier was paid full military honors at the funeral this afternoon. Private services were held this morning at 8:45. The public service was held this afternoon and interment was in the Fairview cemetery. The guard of honor was stationed with the body from 8:45 until the regular services. The body was taken to the cemetery under the guard of a firing squad and a salute was fired over the soldier's grave. Rev. Buzzelle officiated.

Former Soldiers Help

All members of the firing squad, the guard of honor and pall bearers were former service men who had been overseas. Captain A. A. Jones, vice commander of the local post of the American Legion had charge of all military arrangements. The pall bearers were: Phillip Webb, Samuel Payne, Hugh McGarvey, Frank Baker, Oscar Selvin and George Little.

BORN IN BISMARCK

Captain Falconer was born in Bismarck August 4, 1890. He lived in Bismarck nearly all his life and received the greater part of his education in the local schools. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maudie Irving Falconer and a younger sister. His father is city assessor of Bismarck.

Captain Falconer enlisted in the service August 26, 1917. He entered the second officers' training school at Fort Snelling. Later he was transferred to Fortress Monroe, Virginia and was assigned to the coast artillery. At this camp he was commissioned a first lieutenant after competitive examinations against a number of contestants from every section of the country. In December 1917 he was again transferred to Galveston, Texas where against a field competition he won his captain's commission September 6, 1918.

He was married at Galveston shortly after receiving his commission, to Miss Maudie Irving of that city. In the same month he embarked for Hoboken, N. J. where he remained until October 6, when he sailed for France. On the transport Captain Falconer was taken ill with pneumonia. He died in a hospital at Brest, France, October 29, 1918.

RAILWAY HEADS CONFER ON NEW RATE INCREASES

Already Have Petitions Before Commerce Commission Adding Huge Total to Rates

Washington, July 20.—Immediately on receipt of the announcement of the railroad labor board's board railway executives went into conference to frame their recommendations to the Interstate Commerce Commission for advances in rates of $600,000,000 to the carriers.

The commission now has under consideration the application of the carriers for freight rate increases to provide an added income of $1,017,000,000 but these increases do not take into account any wage advance.

NORTON FILES STATEMENT OF HIS EXPENSES

The statement of expenditures of P. D. Norton, independent Republican candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, on file with the secretary of state today shows that he spent $1,317.4, of which $440 was for printing and $485.74 for newspaper advertising. R. F. Gallagher, independent Republican candidate for attorney general, spent $223.16, and Frank McMillan, league candidate for railroad commissioner, spent $64.10. The statement of William Lemke, former candidate for attorney general, has not been filed last evening. He is the only statement among the candidates for major office nominations who had not filed a statement of expenditures as required by law, within 15 days after the primary.

LAYER CLAIMS NOW HE DIDN'T MURDER EIGHT

Friends and Relatives of Turtle Lake Man Present Statements

ASK GOVERNOR'S HELP

Theory is Advanced That Two Men Participated in the Crime

Friends and relatives of Henry Layer, serving a life term in the penitentiary for the murder of the Wolf family and a chore boy eight in all, near Turtle lake in April, have raised the issue of his guilt.

A delegation of men called upon Governor L. J. Frazier yesterday afternoon, protested Layer's innocence and asked the Governor to take steps to gain for Layer another hearing. The Governor told them, it was announced, that if they believe the man to be innocent, they could engage a lawyer and make an effort to obtain a new trial by appealing to the supreme court.

Has an Alibi?

Among those who called on the Governor were William, Henry and Gust Brokofsky. The latter said that Layer could not have committed the crime and denies now that he did commit it.

The farmers declared that Layer was at his home at the time of the shooting, and advance the theory that two men took part in the killing. Shots were heard at about 10 a. m. and about noon, they said, advancing the theory that not all of the family was killed at the same time.

They also declared that Layer declares from his prison cell that he confessed under duress and pleaded guilty in court only to get in prison where he could appeal to friends.

Scant Confessions

Sometime ago it was reported that a petition was being circulated asking the Governor to pardon Layer.

Officers to whom Layer confessed say there is no basis for their contentions and stories that Layer was beaten can be disproved by responsible people who saw him before and after the confession.

It is pointed out that he was left alone in the jail for a considerable period, that he reiterated his confession in open court, rejected frequent offers from the Judge to give him an attorney, and that all the circumstances fasten the guilt on him. Layer confessed that he went home immediately after murder and ate dinner.

TWO ARE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Reports of additional damage done by lightning Sunday night were received today.

The home of Frank Libenix, two miles north of Fort Rice, was struck. Mr. Libenix and his daughter were found unconscious by other members of the family and the house caught on fire, but the flames were extinguished. The little girl is none the worse for her experience, but Mr. Libenix was badly cut about the head and face by flying glass.

Deposits of state and national banks including savings banks, in the United States, are estimated at about $39,000,000,000.

Workers Are Given

$600,000,000 Yearly

Increases Total About Sixty Percent of Demands Made by Unions

—Leaders of 16 Organizations Meeting to Take Action on Decision by Referendum—Railroad Official Plan to File New Rate Increase Pleas

DECISION OF BOARD IS NOT UNANIMOUS

Chicago, July 20.—Six hundred million dollars was added to the pay envelope of the nation's 2,000,000 workers today in the first award handed down by the United States Railway Labor Board.

Rejecting the demands of the organized rail unions for increases totaling approximately $1,000,000,000 annually, the board decided approximately 60 percent of that sum would be a just increase to meet present living conditions.

The award adds approximately 21 percent to the present pay schedules. Railroad officials have declared that any pay increase awarded the men must be followed by a corresponding increase in rates and they plan, it is said, to file new tariffs with the Interstate Commerce Commission as soon as they can be prepared.

Unions Consider It

Whether the award, as given, will stave off the threat of a general railroad strike remains to be seen. The leaders of practically every one of the 16 big railroad unions were present this morning when Judge Ralph Barton, chairman of the board, handed down the decision.

They met immediately to present the award to 1,000 general chairmen, who had gathered here to pass upon its acceptability. The union presidents refused to make any comment before the meeting.

WAGE DEMANDS IN BOARDS HANDS SINCE LAST YEAR

Increases Were Demanded For All Classes of Workers on Railroads

SCHEDULES ARE SET OUT

Washington, July 20.—Demands for substantial wage increases for nearly all classes of the 2,000,000 railway employees have been pending since late last summer. These demands, first presented at different times to the Railroad Administration's Board on Wages and Working Conditions, were unmet when government operation of the railroads was ended, and in turn were referred to the Railroad Labor Board, which was created under the Transportation Act.

The increases, the increases follow: Carpenter service: engineers and motormen, $1.04 per day. Yard service: engineers, fitters and helpers 18 cents per hour. Passengers service: conductors, tick collectors, baggagemen, flagmen and brakemen, $30 per month. Suburban service: passenger conductors $30 per month; freight service conductors, flagmen and brakemen $1.04 per day.

RAILROAD TO LAY OFF MEN TO SAVE CASH

Penna. Lines Force to be Cut 10,000 in Economy Effort, It is Announced

Philadelphia, July 19.—A ten per cent reduction in the working force of the Pennsylvania railroad lines will be made this week, it was announced here today at the company's offices, in the eastern region alone, which takes in the territory east of Altoona, between 10,000 and 11,000 workers will be laid off, it is stated. The reduction was made necessary by the fact that expenses had been exceeding income for sometime past, it is said. In view of this condition, the verbal announcement said, it was decided to "trim sails" and put economies into operation.

EXPLOSION IN MINE ENTOMBS EIGHT WORKMEN

Rescue Crews Gather to Make Effort to Rescue Them When Hoisting Apparatus is Repaired

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 19.—John Lutherman, night foreman, two fire bosses, two pumpers and three laborers, were entombed by an explosion in the mine of the Union Collieries company at Renfert, Pa., eight miles from here, early today.

The explosion blew the cage out of the shaft and as soon as repairs can be made to the hoisting apparatus rescue crews will endeavor to find the buried men.

The ventilation system of the mine, which is 512 feet deep, is operated by electricity, furnished by a power company. Saturday afternoon it became necessary to make repairs to the plant and the power was shut off.

WILSON VETOES BURLESON RULE ON POSTAL MEN

Plan to Dismiss Employees at age Limit Regardless of Abilities Cancelled

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson has decided to overrule Postmaster General A. S. Burleson's interpretation of the civil service retirement law, under which hundreds of government employees would have been ousted from the service while they still were able to perform their work efficiently.

At the cabinet meeting Tuesday, the president will "suggest" that members get together on an interpretation of the new law sufficiently liberal to allow capable government employees to stay at work, even if they are beyond the retirement ages.

Rule of Thumb Vetoed

President Wilson, it was learned at the White House, takes the position that each employee should be judged on his individual performances and not by rule of thumb.

The desires of his chief apparently were communicated to Burleson today for he gave clear indications of switching his position in an order that all applications from "superannuates" to remain in the service should be placed before him. The president sent word to the postoffice department and the interior department, the two in which dismissals have been threatened, directing that no superannuates be discharged pending further word from the White House.

Another Row in Prospect

President Wilson's entrance into the controversy probably will end with another family row in the administration. Opposed to Burleson was Secretary of the Interior J. B. Payne, but some of Payne's subordinates during his absence lined up on Burleson's side. It was understood that Secretary of War N. D. Baker also was prepared to stand

FARMERS POOL WOOL TO HOLD FOR ADVANCES

Barnes County Association Take Action to Meet Present Market Condition

Wimbledon, July 19.—Barnes county wool growers are pooling their wool so that it may be held until the market is more stable.

At a meeting of the wool growers' association it was decided to pool the wool beginning today and extending over a period of three days. The wool is being stored in the warehouse at least.

The plan is to ship the wool to Chicago, to be stored in a part of the warehouse owned by the National Wool Growers' association, where it can be held until the market advances. At the present time there is practically no demand for wool. Twenty-five cents a pound will be advanced on all wool shipped to the national warehouse. The rate of interest on the advance will be 8 per cent and will extend over a period of perhaps six months, or until the wool is sold.

The local association also has decided to join the recently formed State Wool Growers' association, which will aid in marketing all wool in the state.

DULUTH CREW MEETS DEFEAT IN BOAT RACE

Syracuse Noses Out Champion Crew in Close Race on St. Louis Bay

Duluth, Minn., July 19.—Primed to beat the best premier crew that has pulled ours in boat club racing in years Syracuse's senior eight today went to the starting float on St. Louis bay, Duluth, and after a race that caused 5,000 spectators to cheer themselves hoarse, defeated the champion Duluth crew by two feet.

Perhaps never in the history of eight-oared races in America have two crews measured each other more perfectly in ability and water than the Syracuse and Duluth champions.

When the boats came on to the course today Capt. Ten Eyck, Sr., had weight and age in his Syracuse boat in his favor.

CHILDREN SAVED WHEN FIRE BURNS IN THEIR HOME

Neighbors Put Out Flames Started by Tots Playing With Matches Saturday Evening

Three little children of Mr. and Mrs. William Markham, living on Third street, were endangered by fire Saturday evening.

The children, according to neighbors, were left alone from mid-afternoon until about 8 o'clock in the evening, and two of the tots were playing with matches. Smoke was seen issuing from the house in the evening and neighbors rushed in, found the mattress of a bed, on which was baby, was burning. The flames were extinguished.

Neighbors had asked the children to cease playing with matches, fearing that the house, which they say would be particularly easy prey for flames, would be set on fire. Neighbors are said to have protested to the state fire marshal and other authorities against the occupancy of the house as a source of danger to other houses.

RETURN OF TRADING IN FUTURE WHEAT BRINGS UP OLD CHARGE OF GAMBLING

Is It Necessary to Stabilize Business? — Writer in Miller's Magazine Says That It Makes Operation on Narrower Margin of Profit—Says Millers Profit Without It

The Northwestern Miller says editorially in commenting on the reopening of trading in wheat futures on the grain exchanges of the United States:

Many years ago the theory was advanced that trading in wheat futures encouraged speculation to the detriment of the public interest, and legislation was proposed to put a stop to it. "Grain gambling" it was called, and, of course, to a certain extent it afforded opportunity for the gambler, and on occasion he employed it to disturb and distort the legitimate situation.

Action on Values

On the other hand, it was the means of stabilizing values and protecting legitimate industry from excessive fluctuations in the price of the raw material. In consequence, it was possible to operate on a narrower margin of profit, and the public was thereby benefited.

The experience of the war period has, most effectually and for all time, disposed of the fallacy that future trading in wheat is opposed to the public interest. It returns to the American exchanges with a new dignity and without the vague stigma attached to its past. The simple process adopted by men of business as a necessity for self-protection has been justified on the sound basis of economic wisdom and desirability.

It has been shown conclusively, not only that the grain and milling trades can exist without future trading, but that they necessarily profit by its elimination, and are actually compelled to do so in order to save themselves from loss. The method is restored, therefore, not out of consideration for the future welfare of the grain-handler and the flour manufacturer, so much as for the benefit of the consumer.

Hazards of Fluctuations

Before the war, the hazards of fluctuations in the price of wheat being removed by the ability of the buyer to protect himself in the markets, wheat and flour were handled on the narrowest possible limits of profits. During and since the war these hazards, being uninsured against, were unavoidably and necessarily added to the cost, and ultimately paid by the consumer of the finished product.

Being great, and each chain in the link from producer to consumer being exposed to them, the burden became heavier, and was reflected in the price of flour. No one could afford to take the chance of a decline; consequently each protected himself by the only means left to him, that of passing on the risk to the next purchaser. Even so, the danger of a sudden and sharp decline was always imminent and unavoidable. Fortunately for those engaged in wheat dealing and milling, the price of wheat, contrary to expectation, advanced instead of declining and they made profits, accordingly, although the process was often nerve-racking.

In Case of Decline

Had wheat declined, in spite of all efforts to protect themselves, those concerned would have made heavy losses. As it was, they escaped, but the public paid the price for the risk they were obliged to assume through the suspension of future trading and its consequent protection from violent fluctuations.

The restoration of this privilege means for those engaged in the milling and grain trades a relaxation from the high tension of the past years; the responsibility of risk is removed from their shoulders and placed upon the wheat markers, where it is divided and assumed by the many who buy and sell and take their individual chances.

It follows that, as soon as they machinery of future trading is fully re-established and in working order, whatever excess in profits was found necessary in order to protect those concerned in the handling of wheat and its products will be eliminated from the price charged and thus, in the public interest and for sound reasons, future trading in wheat is re-established as a necessity, and the consumer will again, as in pre-war times, find the relation between the producer and himself, on a narrower and closer basis of intervening profit, to his own advantage and to the stabilization of the price of the products at which on a peace basis.

DOCTORS OF WAR GET "OIL BONUS" FROM LUCKY MAN

Dr. Wilhoit Couldn't Go to War So He Rewards Doctors Who Did Answer the Call

Peabody, Kan., July 19.—Talk about a service bonus!

Dr. J. C. Wilhoit here "beat Uncle Sam to it." He's paid a bonus to 30 army doctors—and a bigger bonus than the government ever considered. Incidentally he has done his "bit."

Dr. Wilhoit wanted to go to war and they wouldn't accept him for service. He stayed home and made a fortune in oil and retired. Then, when the boys came back, he found "a good thing" and got 30 young service doctors in on it. They called the prospect well. "Doctor's Honor No. 1." The other day the M. D.'s hope became a 600 barrel-a-day reality and now the 30 military sawbones plan a "triumphal return" to Paris.

ALASKA HAS GREAT FUTURE AS FOOD PRODUCING COUNTRY, SAYS REPORT

One of Experiment Stations

Which Makes Report is Located Only 75 Miles From the Arctic Circle Where Frost-Free Period is but About 97 Days.—Grain Growing on Increase:

Washington, July 20.—Most people regard Alaska as a gold and fur country, yet the United States Department of Agriculture experiment stations located in Alaska have demonstrated that Alaska is not only a food-producing country, but that its latent resources of the territory are developed. The Alaska wheat fields are destined to play an important part in the economic life of the Nation.

The twenty-first annual report of the Alaska Experiment Station is now available. The volume is truly a romance of agricultural accomplishment. When it is considered that one of the experiment stations is located in the Yukon Valley only 75 miles from the Arctic Circle, where the yearly frost-free period is about 97 days, some appreciation can be had of the difficulties that prevail.

Tests Are Made

According to the report, the Sitka Station propagates and tests, and to some extent disseminates, all manner of plants that promise to be useful in Alaska. The chief line of work at the Fairbanks Station is the growing of grain, the testing of the adaptability of varieties of grain, and the dissemination in small quantities of the surplus seed grain produced. At Rumble, the chief lines of work are the production of new varieties of wheat, barley, and oats by means of hybridization, the testing and selection of hybrids, and the increase of those proving valuable. Hardy alfalfa is grown, as well as vegetables, for the purpose of ascertaining the best cultural methods to be pursued. Cattle and sheep breeding work is conducted at the Kodiak Station, and at Matanuska experiments are made with growing grain and sugar beets. A small nursery has also been started here for propagating hardy nursery stock for distribution in the Matanuska Valley.

Distribute Seed

In 1918 a distribution of seed grain was made to a number of farmers in the Tanana Valley in an effort to induce them to begin grain production on an independent basis. The results were so satisfactory that the experiment was repeated in 1919. In that year 22 farmers in the Tanana Valley produced 1,125 bushels of spring wheat, 2,811 bushels of oats, and 121½ bushels of barley. During the same season the station at Fairbanks produced 303 bushels of spring wheat, 774 bushels of oats, and 125 bushels of barley. A small flour mill was installed at the Fairbanks Station in 1918, where Alaska-grown wheat has

Firestone

Cushion

Truck Tires

More truck tire problems in more lines of business are answered by Firestone Cushion Tires than by any other type of tire.

They have all the cushioning power needed for proper protection to your load and truck. They have the wearing strength of regular solid equipment that means the maximum mileage.

12% to 27% More Rubber

Firestone Cushion Tires have a much greater bulk of material. That is one reason why they ride easier. It is obvious, too, that this means longer wear. The extra wide tread provides approximately 15% to 20% more area of road contact—giving firmer traction under all conditions.

300% More Efficient in Heat Radiation

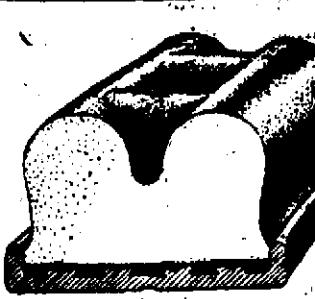

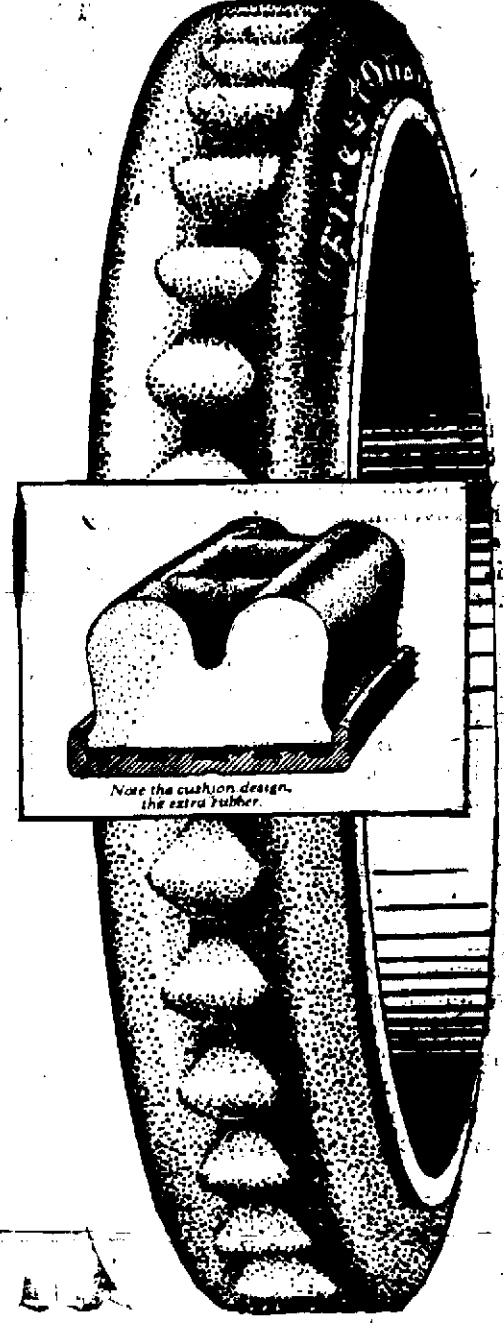

Overheating is a common danger to truck tire equipment. But Firestone engineers have evolved this shape that lessens the strain through a different flexing of the rubber.

Any Truck Immediately Equipped

Firestone Cushion Tires are built to fit any S. A. E. base. No wheel changes necessary. The nearest Firestone truck tire dealer can apply them to your units without delay or added expense.

If you want resiliency plus extra-long wear, and if you want the practical economy of most miles per dollar, put on Firestone Cushion Tires.

Firestone Cushion Tires in all sizes from 32x3 to 40x14.

Note the cushion design—the extra rubber.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. You are the sun and the inspiration of their lives. Dark threatening clouds hover over them if you are out of sorts or under the weather. Don't imperil their future by neglecting your health.

LIST HARVEST CREWS TO FILL STATE'S NEEDS

Employment Bureau Receiving Applications From Farmers and Workmen

MEN ARE MOVING NORTH

Many Who Started Season in Texas Expected to End up in Dakotas

Between 15,000 and 25,000 men will be needed by the farmers of North Dakota to aid in the threshing of grain in the state during the month of August, it is estimated by attaches of the office of John Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor and federal employment director for the state.

There is indication that there will be plenty of laborers to fill the needs of farmers, it was stated. With the Kansas harvest practically finished and much wheat threshed in Nebraska, thousands of men following threshing machines are expected to come into North Dakota to finish the season in the wheat fields.

The North Dakota employment offices are in touch with offices in Chicago, St. Paul and other cities where laborers are applying for jobs in the wheat fields, and the employment offices have received many requests from farmers for workmen.

Wage Scale Not Fixed

The wage scale has not been fixed. It probably will vary in different parts of the state, and will be established by the law of supply and demand. The harvest is expected to begin in the Red River valley probably about August 10 or 15.

Orders have been received from many farmers for men for threshing at rates of $3 to $3.50 per day, it was stated. Reports printed in some sections to the effect that wages of $1 a day and more were paid in Kansas wheat fields are not borne out in the figures in the hands of the employment department of Mr. Hagan's office.

General Average
According to these reports the wages ran from 50 cents an hour to 70, in some cases, and in western

Mrs. ELLA WILSON

CANTON, O.—Mrs. Ella Wilson will never sew again as long as she lives, she says. For 25 years Mrs. Wilson was a leading dressmaker here. Now she has been willed $10,000 cash and the income on $100,000 as long as she lives, by her uncle, Augustus D. Julliard, who died in New York, leaving a huge estate.

Nebraska has been generally from 50 to 60 cents a hour.

It is expected that many of the threshing crews which come into the state for the harvest will move from the Red River valley on west, finishing up in the Slope country.

The applications at the various employment offices range from college men on vacation to men who describe themselves as floating laborers. There is a percent of the men who leave the cities of the east each year to join threshing crews, it is said, starting in the harvest in Texas and Oklahoma and moving northward.

CALL HEADS OF LABOR BODIES IN CONFERENCE

State Federations Asked to Confer on Congressional Candidates in Fall Election

Washington, July 20.—Executive councils of state Federations of Labor were asked today by the executive committee of the American Federation to hold special sessions Saturday, August 7, to adopt measures for close co-operation with the national committee in the political campaign.

The councils were asked especially to study the legislative records on measures of interest to labor of all members of the Sixty-sixth congress whose terms of office expire March 4. These records, recently were completed by the national committee and sent to the state organizations.

Special conferences of all labor organizations in each of the congressional districts of the country also were suggested by the national committee, but no dates were fixed. The purpose of these conferences would be to prepare for active campaigns in each congressional district.

GERMAN VESSELS IN OLD ROUTES UNDER U. S. FLAG

Washington, July 20.—Arrangements for the opening of former North German Lloyd trade routes to American shipping were completed today at a conference between Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board and officials of the United States Mail Steamship company. The board recently allocated fifteen former German passenger vessels to the company for operation on the trade routes.

"Every aspect of the arrangement is purely American," Chairman Benson said after the conference, "and will result in inestimable benefit to the American merchant marine."

Assurances were given by the United States Mail Steamship company, Chairman Benson said, that no German capital was interested in the venture and that the agreement with the North German Lloyd company provided for the use of its docks and harbor facilities on a fixed price basis only.

BANKER, AFTER TRIP TO EUROPE, SEES NEW HOPE

New York, July 20.—Brooks Leavitt, manager of the bond department of Paine, Webber & Co., who has just returned from a trip through the principal countries of Europe, declared that conditions on the other side of the Atlantic were decidedly good. In Belgium, Germany, France and England he found signs of improvement, he said. Belgium not only taking care of her own requirements but exports sugar and coal to France. Germany, he declared, presented a good appearance agriculturally, but the torpor affecting industry "is very striking to one coming recently from her busy neighbors."

As for France, Mr. Leavitt said that in the uninvaded areas the industries were in good condition, and that there seemed to be ample funds to finance new enterprises. England, he declared, was alert and projecting her trade in all directions. Americans found everywhere seeking information and opportunities, and he predicts that our own position in the world's business, "whether it ever grows to be a dominating one or not, will be of great importance."

BRYAN BOOSTED AS DRY LEADER

Lincoln, Neb., July 20.—Delegates to the Prohibition National convention which begins here Wednesday next began arriving today but the number is not yet large. The early arrivals are chiefly from the East and Central states. Among the few who are here the sentiment is strongly for the nomination of a national ticket.

W. G. Calderwood of Minnesota, vice chairman of the national committee, who has been in Lincoln several days, has expressed a preference for a ticket headed by William J. Bryan, for president, with William A. Sunday for running mate.

EVEN THE CANAL GOING DRY, SO ENGINEERS SAY

Washington, July 20.—Dependent entirely upon the water from rains of the wet season gathered in the great storage reservoir of Gatun Lake for its operation, the Panama Canal was brought down to a narrow margin of supply by the unprecedented dry season just ended.

Official reports show this was the driest season since American occupation of the Canal Zone and the lake was reduced to within less than a yard of the point where there would not have been sufficient water for safe navigation.

Only resort to steam power for operating part of the canal mechanism during part of the season kept the water level up to the minimum point of 81.76, which was recorded May 28.

Keeping Healthy in Broiling Sun

When heat feels heavy or stomach is acrid, get quick relief with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint.

In spite of the lighter foods we eat during summer months, it is the season of greatest dyspepsia and constipation. Many find it difficult to stand the heat. They exercise little and are always tired and half-sick.

It is good policy to take plenty of ripe fruit and vegetables, lots of cool, clear water and walks when the sun has set. But with all these precautions it is often impossible to regulate the daily elimination, with the result that thousands suffer from constipation, indigestion and similar ills.

There is nothing better for clogged-up bowels, for a stomach that refuses to work, than that well-known combination of simple laxative herbs with peppermint oil—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint. It is America's standard relief for constipation. It has the great merit of being sure to act, yet acting mildly and without griping.

What a Young Bride Learned About the Washday Problem

This is a true story about laundry service and a bride. It was just a year ago that this young wife set up housekeeping. What to do with the family washing was one of her first problems. Many of her neighbors, she observed, did their washing at home—so bridelike, she followed their example.

And she applied to her housekeeping, also, the budget system for family expenditures she had learned at school.

At the end of a year she summed up the bills for wash, soap, fuel, electric current, and other incidentals, added in her own time at 25 cents an hour—about half what a laundress would have charged—and discovered that it had cost her $188 in money alone to do her washing at home.

The next day she invited us to call for her family bundle—the testimony of her budget book couldn't be disputed—it proved the false economy of home washday methods.

And a majority of the other thinking housewives in this young woman's neighborhood—the women who have stopped to reckon the REAL cost of washday at home—have joined her in entrusting their laundry to us.

May we introduce you to this family laundry service that so nicely combines efficiency with economy?

Remember our Dry Cleaning Department. All work done under our guarantee. Phone us today.

Send it to the Laundry

The members of the committee have not yet been named by Mr. Young but he intends to have named the men before tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatley and their daughter, Miss Clara Tatley, returned today from California where they have been since last fall. Mr. Tatley was greatly impressed with the progress made in Bismarck since his departure. He was in Los Angeles recently when the city felt five distinct earthquakes. Mr. Tatley said that there was no serious damage done and that the only uneasiness felt was in the business district where people housed in the large buildings showed signs of panic.

Mr. Tatley expects to spend the rest of the summer and fall here and may decide to put in the winter. His health is excellent and he feels decidedly optimistic over crop prospects and the future of the capital city.

He predicts a Harding victory in the far west.

"How unfortunate it is," says this paper, "that William missed his vocation. After all the notoriety he achieved as an emperor, one can imagine what would have been his fame as a tailor."

EMBROIDERY IS THE KEYNOTE OF HANDSOME TUNIC BLOUSE

BY CORA MOORE,

New York, July 20. Blouses, over blouses and tunics have taken on strange ways lately. They literally make the dress, as witness this tunic blouse Elaine Hammerstein is wearing.

It is of raven's wing blue satin worn over a slip of satin that is a shade lighter but of the same grayish tone, and it is the simplest thing imaginable to make just a kimono slip-on top with rather a long waist, short sleeves finished with a four-inch band of the raven's wing satin, and then two panels that meet at the top but fall apart to disclose the skirt.

The embroidery is done in black silk floss and green gold threads while the vest is finished on either side with a fold of the gray blue sat-

BISMARCK PEOPLE MEET IN HONOLULU WHEN NAVY CRUISERS REACH THE PORT

Bismarck and the people of the city were discussed in a far distant clime recently.

E. J. Taylor Jr., midshipman of the United States Naval Academy now on the summer tour with other midshipmen on a warship writes his father that he arrived in Honolulu July 7 and met Miss Helen Burton formerly of Bismarck.

Miss Burton is engaged in educational work in the Philippine Islands. The Taylor and Burton families are old friends.

Mr. Taylor reached Honolulu after an ocean voyage of 18 days from the Panama canal. The Pacific Ocean is well named, he said, as there was not in sight of storm during the trip. The academy ship was to leave Honolulu on July 18, with Seattle as the destination. The ship will return to Annapolis by way of the Panam Canal in time for the vacation season of the midshipmen and the resumption of till studies.

North Dakota midshipmen on the cruise in addition to Mr. Taylor are D. L. Davis, R. R. Pennell and W. L. Hollond.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

A WILSONIAN APOLOGIST

Governor Cox's visit to President Wilson has served one vital end; it has crystallized the major issues of the campaign. The Democratic candidate for the presidency cheerfully shoulders the task of defending the foreign policy of the Wilson dynasty and all the international commitments in which the Democratic administration sought to involve this nation.

From now on Cox becomes merely the defender of the Wilson idea. He stands committed unequivocally to Article X which Mr. Wilson has repeatedly said was the "heart of the treaty" and that to cut it out would be to "break the heart of the world." He is also the avowed champion of the Armenian mandate.

That the Democratic nominee promises to liquidate, underwrite and assume the international obligations to which Mr. Wilson deems to commit this nation is thoroughly established in a statement made by Cox following his White House conference. On that occasion he said:

"What he promised, I shall, if elected, endeavor or with all my strength to give."

The traditional policies of the American republic become subsidiary considerations to the Wilsonian promises made without mandate or consent of the United States senate.

Governor Cox's statement is probably the most remarkable one ever made by a presidential candidate. It out Wilsons Wilson in its determination to champion the cause of internationalism as defined at the Paris peace conference.

The campaign, then, as far as the Democratic party is concerned is to secure from the American people an endorsement of the Wilson policies and a vindication of the Wilson dynasty. Mr. Cox has come completely under the spell of the White House.

In the west and middle west, Cox's stock has taken a distinct slump because of his utterances Sunday following the White House conference. During the presidential primaries the League of Nations such as it is conceived by Wilson was repudiated emphatically. The American people do not feel that they are acting in bad faith in rejecting an instrument written in Paris and conceived in an environment absolutely dominated by European diplomats who do not understand the heart of the American people and who have no particular concern for their ideals and aspirations.

There is no intention to act in what Mr. Cox terms "threatened bad faith to the world," but there is a determination in these United States to make the League of Nations idea square with American purposes.

The forces who put Cox over at San Francisco thought they had shunted the Wilsonian liabilities. Their hopes have been blasted. Cox enters the campaign as the defender of the Wilson policies and a champion of what the chief executive has promised without instructions from the American people.

JAPAN'S DEMOCRACY

The Japanese people have resolved not to be denied the rights of democracy. Mass-meetings insisting upon manhood suffrage have become so threatening in Tokio that the police are trying to suppress them. Mobs parade the streets, demanding the government resign. A bomb was thrown at the Parliament building.

It is a foolish policy which gives the ballot only to those with property qualifications. Property needs no more protection than does humanity. The military element in Japan, with its medieval sense of loyalty to the throne, and its contempt for un-disciplined outbursts of feeling, does not favor democracy. But, neither did it favor opening Japan to intercourse with the western nations.

Efficiency, however, is Japan's watchword.

Efficiency cannot prevail if the Japanese people are in a constant state of political turmoil. Japan's leaders eventually will understand this, for when efficiency is in question, their minds work with a rigid impersonality.

Meanwhile, to all observers of democratic evolution, Japan will be the most interesting nation in the world, for the next few years. Never before has an oriental race risen in the democratic scale. How Japan makes her rise will be fraught with vast consequences for the East, and consequently for civilization at large.

ANARCHY IN CHINA

There is no responsible government of China now in existence. The north is divided against the south; and in the north itself, there are other divisions, which threaten to pile civil war upon civil war: No statesman in China can see a way out of the republic's financial difficulties.

Anti-foreign feeling is again prevalent. In despair at the incompetence of their governing class, the Chinese people are putting the responsibility upon the white nations who are supposed to have been helping China to her feet. Once more, the legations at Pekin are preparing to withstand a possible siege. In the province of Chi-li, where the late dictator, Yuan Shikai, gained his first reputation as an autocrat, native troops are threatening to restore the monarchy again.

The turmoil will eventually wear itself out, as it always does in China. But, there will be a constant reappearance, until China removes all military authority from the governors of her provinces.

An effort is being made to unite the progressive, non-military elements among the leaders of north and south China, and to form a new government. Dr. Wu Ting Fang, China's former minister to the United States, is the moving spirit in this compromise suggestion. If it succeeds, a general reorganization may result, which will give to China an orderly era of reform. If Dr. Wu and his associates fail, China's chronic illnesses of disorder and conflicting authority will continue to repel all efforts to cure the ponderous patient.

IDLE MEN FOUND

Without meaning to find fault with anyone, for it is really none of our business, the number of idle men one encounters in a day is simply appalling, or would be if he allowed such things to sink too deeply into his system. It seems as if hardly anybody were at work these days, if one judges by the number of persons he sees who are not at work.

The picture houses are full of men at every performance, afternoons as well as evenings. The baseball games are attended by large crowds. The golf courses are always occupied. The clubs are enjoying large attendance. The streets are filled with men as well as women. Down here by the river, where a bridge is being built, there are long lines of idle men watching the workers. At every country station where the train halts, there is the customary number of persons who seem to be "just hanging around."

Of course many of these people whom we see are employed. Some of them work at night, and have a few hours of leisure during the day. Others are attending to their business when we see them passing upon the streets. It is often the case that the fellow who we think is an idler, as we see him lolling around a cigar store or pool hall has done a good day's work. But, even so, it does seem that only a small per cent of the human race is employed. Certainly where there is a piece of work going on in the city there are more people watching it than there are employed in the construction.—Columbus, O., Dispatch.

AN ELECTION HYPOTHESIS

There has been considerable talk of the possibility that if the so-called "third party" should prove to be a formidable vote-getter in November, the electoral college might be so divided that the election of a president would be thrown into the House of Representatives. Such a contingency would result only if the third party should carry one or more of the states for presidential electors.

The Constitution provides that, to be elected in the usual way, a presidential candidate must have a majority of all the votes of the electoral college. There are now 531 votes in the electoral college. Of these, 266 are necessary to elect. If, for the sake of illustration, Senator Harding should have 263 electoral votes, Governor Cox 256, and the third party should elect the 12 electors of Minnesota, no candidate would have a majority of the college, and the election would then devolve on the House of Representatives, unless the Minnesota electors should choose to vote for the Republican or Democratic candidate, as they would have a legal, if not a moral right to do.

When election goes to the House of Representatives the vote is taken by states, and each state is entitled to one vote. A majority of the states thus recorded is necessary to a choice.

For purposes of the coming election the present House of Representatives is the one that would choose a president if the electoral college should fail to function in the usual way. Twenty-nine of the 48 states, or five more than half of them, have Republican majority delegations in the House. It is a foregone conclusion, therefore, that if the election should go to the House, that body would choose a Republican, and that Republican, as a matter of course, would be Warren G. Harding.

The House of Representatives has not chosen a president since 1825, when it preferred John Quincy Adams over Henry Clay. The exciting Hayes-Tilden contest for disputed electoral votes was decided in 1877 by an extra-constitutional commission of 15 members, which split eight for Hayes and seven for Tilden.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor The Tribune:

Newspapers throughout the country recently have been calling attention to the fact that within a very short time we may look for famine prices on wheat, corn, potatoes and all other staples of life, that the farm will fail to yield unless something drastic is accomplished immediately in the way of producing an effective factor that will put a stoppage to the exodus of the country youth citywards. The question of "what is to be done?" is fundamental in its simplicity, but astoundingly difficult to answer, states a Chicago daily.

Prof. T. C. Atkeson of the National Grange is authority for the statement that only one per cent of the boys who left the farms of this country to join in the war service have returned to again take up production from the soil.

The other ninety-nine per cent, according to his research and investigation, have chosen as a means of their livelihood the industrial and commercial life which the city offers.

It was upon these men, who were available at one time at planting and harvest time, that the farmer depended for the making and gathering of his crops. Without them there can be no planting of seed, therefore the impossibility of resulting food products. "What is to be done?" is truly a question which demands the attention of the best minds of the country.

While serving in the American army for over two years, both in this country and overseas, the writer came into contact with hundreds of boys who, until they enlisted in the service of their country, had never before left their home towns.

Visiting many of the larger cities in America and Europe, it was not long before they realized that the larger cities offered them many things in the way of amusement and recreation, places of entertainment to go to in the evening—something entirely lacking in their own home towns. In fact, they frequently remarked that immediately upon their discharge from the service it was their intention to establish themselves in the larger cities and there take advantage of the greater opportunities open to them.

As a consequence, when they returned and the glory of their reception and homecoming had worn away, they sought the larger communities and have since settled permanently there.

It is definitely agreed and accepted that a certain amount of exercise and recreation is essential in furnishing the necessary relaxation after a strenuous day at the office or factory. We have establishments where such may secured in the larger cities. Why is something not done along this line for people in the smaller cities, towns and villages, giving the farm youth a place to go in the evening other than the cross-roads general store? His daily work is far more strenuous than that of his city brethren, and it would seem that for this reason he is proportionately more in need of a medium, a "safety-valve" to relieve the tension and ease things.

It is a foolish policy which gives the ballot only to those with property qualifications. Property needs no more protection than does humanity.

The military element in Japan, with its medieval sense of loyalty to the throne, and its contempt for un-disciplined outbursts of feeling, does not favor democracy. But, neither did it favor opening Japan to intercourse with the western nations.

SOUTHERN WOMEN LEAD IN INITIATIVE IN BUSINESS LINES, SO FIGURES SAY

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—According to statistics gathered unofficially by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which holds its annual convention here July 27 to 30, the southern woman leads in business initiative when she does enter commercial lines. Almost invariably the southern business woman seeks to own and operate her own business.

The modern business woman is inclined in every section to undertake an independent business interest rather than a salaried position, points out Lena Madeline Phillips, executive secretary of the federation. "We find constantly increasing list in our National Federation of Women who are operating their own business at a good profit. The southern woman, it is true, seems to lead in this; because she generally aims at once at conducting her own business, rather than graduating into it through a salaried position, as other women have done."

"Business initiative among women will be one of the topics to be discussed at our second annual convention at St. Paul, July 27-30. There will be present delegates who have succeeded in establishing their own business in many lines and these delegates will tell us just how and why they have done it. We will also discuss standards and cost of comfortable living in order to arrive at a proper standard for a minimum salary for both business and professional women. Business standards will be the keynote of the convention—the Federation standing for the highest standard possible."

up a bit. Perhaps if such a medium is established, farm hands would no more plentiful, at least more so than they have been during the past few years.

John M. McLeod, of Columbus, Ohio, has wisely said: "Any is the safety-valve of the nation." The officials of our larger corporations are realizing, more and more each day, the necessity of recreation for their employees. Many of these men of business have installed devices in their plants where the employees can play at basketball, indoor golf, billiards, bowling, gymnasiums, etc. Why not a community center wherein these sports and games may be enjoyed by the farmer, his family and his help. It is something that is well worth study. The situation faced by the farmers of the country is a critical one, demanding earnest thought. It is so serious a character that any movement that may alleviate the distress caused by a lack of farm labor must impress itself upon the thinking men as something to be considered.

Contentment with one's environment is one of the chief factors in making for increased production, befit for the farm or the factory. The establishment of recreation centers might furnish the very means to establish and develop this contentment. If such were to be the case, long step forward would have been taken in an-

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—The campaign for new posts started recently by the American Legion is progressing rapidly, according to an announcement made from national headquarters at Indianapolis.

After the money had gone into drink for himself and his hobby admirers, he struck the proprietor for five dollars more.

The saloonkeeper hesitated. As security for the loan Barney offered to "hang up" the gold watch fob which admiring fans had presented to him in appreciation of his mighty pitching. Giving it to the proprietor, Barney made this proposition:

"You let me have the five, which will make ten I owe you, and I'll make Tris believe I've lost my job. Then he'll advertise for it and offer a reward of ten dollars."

Barney got the second five and without delay it passed over the bar to

CROPS GOOD IN NORTHWEST WITH PASTURES FINE

Ray July 20.—Prospects for crops are good in the northwestern part of the state.

In addition to a heavy yield of small grain there will be plenty of feed, and many farmers will be able to carry a great deal of stock through the winter. It is indicated.

The rains have been plentiful and the growing weather of the best. The grain came up quickly and heavy wheat, oats, flax and other grains promise a record yield. Pastures are in excellent condition.

Rains have come to the northwest section of the state at opportune times. A few districts have suffered severely from the fall.

The purpose of the defense in introducing the documents was not disclosed. The move came when R. C. Cummerow, special government agent, was turned over to William S. Forrest, of counsel for the defense for cross-examination.

Mr. Forrest showed to him the hand bill and asked if he ever had seen such a bill before. Mr. Cummerow replied that it was a printed notice of the sort that had been distributed at the Communist Labor convention in New York during the week of September 3. The attorney then placed the bill before the court as evidence.

The action of the defense was great with satisfaction by the prosecution, which said it would strengthen the state's contention that violence is the basis of the Communist creed.

Two stanzas of "The Red Flag" followed.

The workers' flag is deepest red; It sheltered off our martyred dead; And ere their limbs grew stiff and cold,

Their names blood dyed to every fold.

Then raise the scarlet standard high;

Cummerow testified that the Communist convention encountered trouble when it was called to order in the New York machinists' hall. A committee was sent out to find a larger hall. They returned to report that the I. W. W. hall was the only one sufficient size available. Some delegates objected to meeting in the I. W. W. hall on the ground that police interference would be greater. They were hooted down with cries: "We've been in jail before and can stand it again," Cummerow said.

Cummerow said that at the last session of the convention the international relation committee, of which Lloyd was a member, introduced a resolution which was passed unanimously, to the effect that the party

GOLF FEVER IS CATCHING MANY NEW "VICTIMS"

Tournament Adds Enthusiasm to Play at the Country Club Here

SOME SHINING EXAMPLES

While the state golf tournament has come and gone nevertheless the sport continues to be popular among the members of the local Country club. Offers can be seen every day and evenings driving the ball over the local courses and it is not alone a man's game as there are many women participating in the pastime.

It is said that "golf fever" is nearly as bad as "gold fever" and when one becomes the victim of it there is only going to do and that is humor it as much as possible. From the appearance of the local greens it is evident that the epidemic is spreading in Bismarck. They say, golf is a fascinating game and that once started the golfer has a desire to play the game all of the time. In other words it's a fever of a very unscientific nature which brings joy and delight to the victim. Nation-Wide Interest.

However it is very evident that many Bismarck people are enthusiastic over the game but it is not unusual considering that the same situation is existing in all sections of the country today. Many of the greatest men in the country chose golf as their favorite sport and outdoor exercise. In a recent copy of the American Golfer, a national magazine there were photographs of some of the big men today showing them either playing or getting ready for the game. Senator Warren G. Harding, Charles Schwab, A. Mitchell Palmer, Governor Cox of Ohio, Will H. Hays, Arthur Brisbane, Eugene Grace and many other prominent men were listed as golf enthusiasts. Therefore it is only in accordance with Bismarck's prestige that many of her citizens enjoy what is becoming a national pastime.

Cox For It
Although golf affords the needed recreation for a business man it also benefits him physically. "Outdoor exercise is just what many of the people in this country need," says Governor Cox of Ohio. In a statement to the newspapers last Sunday he said that he believed public golf courses should be established wherever possible so that more might enjoy this wonderful sport.

The popular sport on the local links now is to make the course in less than 40, and there are mighty few who have done it. Others find more pleasure in trying to equal some of the best shots of the recent tournament.

GRAND FORKS TEAM DISBANDS

Grand Forks, N. D., July 20.—The Grand Forks baseball team has been disbanded, cancelling all games.

The local fans are disappointed, as the team is the best that the city has had in five years. The team played 32 games and lost but six.

Explanations for the breaking up of the team are not available from officials.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

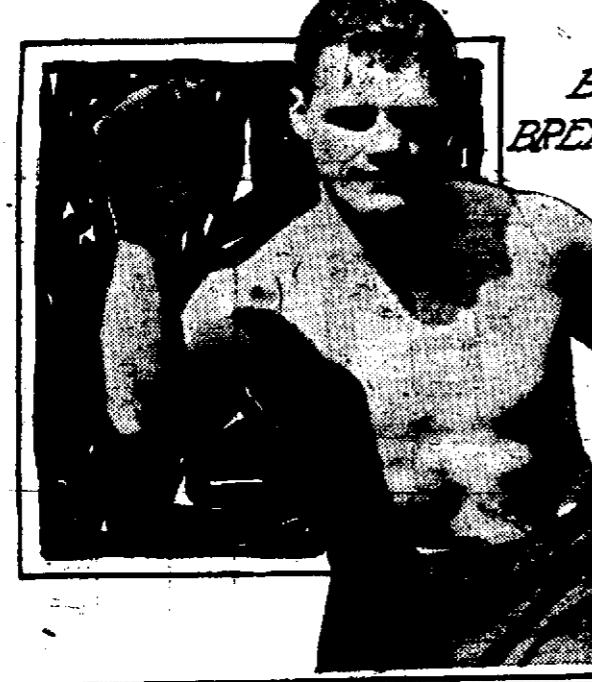

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.
